

Exceptional People. Exceptional Care.

THE UNIVERSITY OF QUEENSLAND

Integration, co-ordination & multidisciplinary care in Australia- growth via optimal governance arrangements

Prof. Claire Jackson ¹, Dr Jenny Doust ¹, Dr John O'Donnell ²,
Caroline Nicholson ², Lily Cheung ¹, Sharon Saunders ¹

¹ University of Queensland

² Mater Centre for Integrated Health Care & General Practice

Study design

Systematic review & Key Stakeholder interviews

The emphasis of an exploratory approach is inherently attractive to both researchers and policy-makers who want to take an approach from one country or setting and apply it to another.

Finding the literature

Structured search strategy

Inclusion and exclusion criteria

Distribution of the protocol to key stakeholders for early input

Engagement

Important area for research

Different perspectives

Thirst for evidence to guide projects

Highlights the need to write up actions and findings

Stream IV process

Clear perspective of other projects

Networks to link up with other groups

Useful to hear other approaches to hurdles

Regular contact to keep to time and task

Departmental representation